

Switzerland

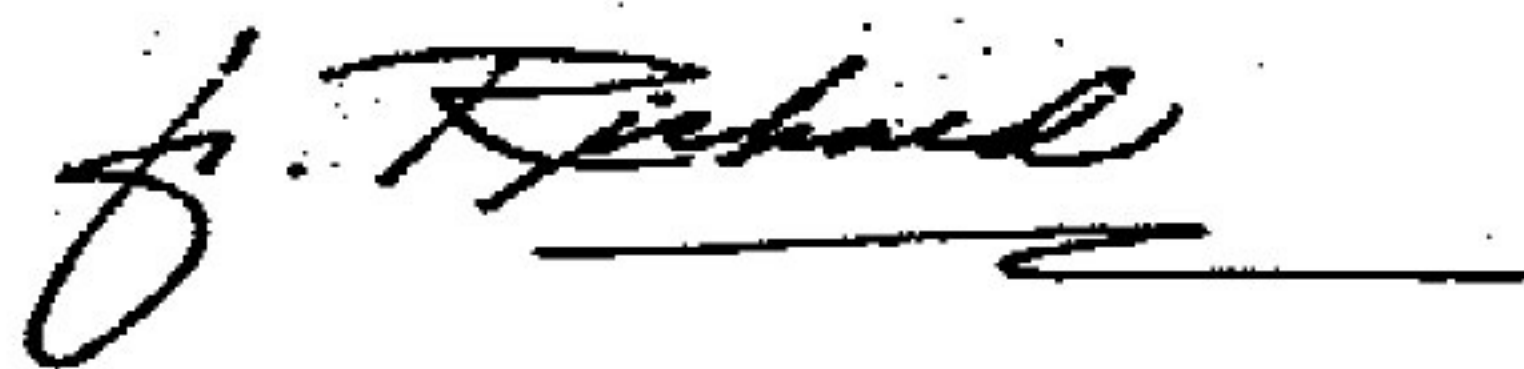

I write to you in confidence and hope that you give this matter the urgency it requires. On a routine audit check last month, my partner and I discovered a dormant investment account with an estimated value of US$9,800,000.00 which was set up in 1990 belonging to a deceased foreigner Mrs. Sarah. N. Angehrn. Several efforts by our company to track any member of her family or any one as the next of kin has since failed because the deceased died leaving no will in her file. My partner and I have decided to privately contact you since you bear the same last name with the deceased

We intend to facilitate the transfer of this sum of US$9,800,000.00 in this Investment Deposit to a safe account overseas. We have verified that no one has operated or transacted with this account from year 2000 till date. I am therefore proposing that you confidentially partner with us by standing as the next of kin and provide an account that will serve the purpose of receiving this fund. For your assistance in this venture, we are ready to part with a good percentage of the entire funds.

The information we have on this account is privileged and confidential as no other person has access to this file. If we do not remit this money urgently, it would be forfeited and subsequently converted to state funds which may benefit only the shareholders of our company. This money can be approved to you legally and with all the necessary documentary approvals in your name. However, you would be required to show some proof of claim which we will provide to you and also guide you on how to make the applications.

Please do give me a response through my private Tel/Fax numbers or email so that I can send you detailed information of my proposition. I completely trust you to keep this proposition absolutely confidential. For Security reasons kindly forward a copy of this letter back to me by fax or email with your telephone and fax number where I can reach you easily. I look forward to your prompt response.

Best Regards,

Richard Wong
HSBC Global Asset Management H.K
1 Queens Road Central, Hong Kong
Private Fax: +85230062484
Private email: rich.wong@gmx.hk